

Yahoo! is excited to promote outreach among women in tech groups across college campuses and is pleased to announce the 2012 Yahoo! Yodel Your Thoughts Scholarship.

With the recent appointment of Marissa Mayer as CEO, the landscape for women in technology and leadership has undoubtedly been elevated. We want to hear your thoughts on how the climate has changed for women in technology.

In a one-page essay, please share your thoughts on one of the following topics:

- How have pioneering women, like Yahoo!'s CEO – Marissa Mayer, inspired female students in technology?
- Do you believe there is a difference between female and male leaders in technology?

In the spirit of celebrating technical women, Yahoo! has been a long-time sponsor of the Grace Hopper Women in Computing Conference. As a Silver Sponsor this year, Yahoo! will host an invitation-only breakfast event. If you are attending this year's conference in Baltimore, Maryland, we'd love for you to stop by our career fair booth or join us for breakfast!

We look forward to hearing your thoughts and seeing you at Grace Hopper!

Award Detail

- $500 scholarship will be awarded to the most profound, thought-provoking, and sincere submission.
- Opportunity to visit Yahoo! campus in Sunnyvale, CA for a day of on-site interviews and fun.

How to Submit

- Compose a one-page essay on one of the topics above.
- Your resume must be included with your essay submission.
- Submit your essay and resume to YodelYourThoughts@yahoo-inc.com by September 28th, 2012.

Important Dates

- Monday – September 24th, 2012
Deadline to submit essay and resume.
- Friday – September 28th, 2012
Award recipients will be notified by email.
- Thursday – October 4th, 2012
Invite-only networking breakfast at the Grace Hopper Conference.

Eligibility

- One submission per person.
- Must be fully enrolled at an accredited university, pursuing a degree in computer science, computer engineering, or related technical major.

Yahoo!'s Women in Tech organization will review all submissions and select the winners.

Please send all questions or inquiries to: YodelYourThoughts@yahoo-inc.com

